

I am currently carrying 2 types of vinyl. This chart will hopefully clarify the differences between the two types I carry in my store.

	Glitter Vinyl	Glistening Sparkle Vinyl or Mirror Vinyl
Thickness	.06	.02
Smooth shiny Finish NOT rough	Yes	Yes
Used for Embroidery Machines?	Yes	Yes
Used for Cutting machines	I wouldn't recommend it	Yes
Can it be put in a washing machine?	Yes	Yes
Can it be put in a dryer?	I would recommend on a low heat or air dry	I would recommend low heat or air dry
Type of backing	Cloth/canvas	Cloth/canvas

To sum it up:

Both vinyl products are very easy to use and work extremely well with an embroidery machine. You can use a standard embroidery needle with either of the products and I usually don't change my needle until I've noticed breaking of the thread. Then I know it's time for a new one.

There are a few differences between the two vinyl products. The Glitter Vinyl is much thicker and heavier than the Glisten Sparkle/Mirror vinyl. I would recommend using this one for Free Standing pieces like Bows and Glam Bands. It holds the shape better. The glisten vinyl/Mirror Vinyl cuts easier because it's much thinner, it also is much shinier than the Glitter Vinyl. I would recommend using this type for appliqués. You could use a heavier stabilizer if you would like to use it for bows, you can try it out and see what you think.

Both are smooth on the top. You will not have any glitter flakes nor does it feel rough to the touch.

I would not recommend using a good pair of scissors when cutting either of these fabrics. It will dull your scissors much quicker than normal. Be sure to get a small sharp pair so you are able to cut through the vinyl easier.

You don't necessarily need to add a backing to either of the vinyl but I do recommend it. Depending on your project, you can make the call.

I sell both vinyl in sheets and rolls. A sheet is 9x12" and a roll has 6 sheets and is 12x54". 98% of the time if you order more than 1 sheet it will come in a continuous roll. If you see the inventory of at least 6 or more if you order 6 sheets you will get 1 roll. IF I'm not able to provide a continuous roll I will email you and let you know.

Both products are fun to work with and take any of your products to another level. IF you have any questions at all just email me. SweetStuffbyJen@yahoo.com and I will do my best to answer any of your questions.

Thanks
